About the Hoffmans

Chuck Hoffman and Peg Carlson-Hoffman are artists, designers, storytellers and spouses who passionately explore relationships between art and faith. They understand prayer and art as ways to share deeper understanding of self and of community.

In the journey beyond words and into image, patterns, textures, lines and color become prayerful compositions created from a place where there are no words. This has informed the Hoffman's current work as they engage art and the process of creating art in the building of bridges in places where walls have divided.

They are on a fascinating journey of co-creating works of art as they look for deeper understanding of reconciliation.
